GALACTIC HACKER PARTY

2nd, 3rd, 4th of August 1989

PARADISO, AMSTERDAM, HOLLAND

During the summer of 1989 the world as we know it will go into overload. An interstellar particle stream of hackers, phone phreaks, radioactivists and assorted technological subversives will be fusing their energies into a media melt-down as the global village plugs into Amsterdam for three electrifying days of information interchange and electronic capers.

Aided by the advanced communications technology to which they are accustomed, the hacker forces will discuss strategies, play games, and generally have a good time. Free access to permanently open on-line facilities will enable them to keep in touch with home base -- wherever that is.

Those who rightly fear the threat of information tyranny and want to learn what they can do about it are urgently invited to interface in Amsterdam in August. There will be much to learn from people who know. Celebrity guests with something to say will be present in body or electronic spirit.

The Force must be nurtured. If you are refused transport because your laptop looks like a bomb, cut off behind enemy lines, or unable to attend for any other reason, then join us on the networks. Other hacker groups are requested to organize similar gatherings to coincide with ours. We can provide low-cost international communications links during the conference.

Hacking at the End of the Universe

Where?

Hacking at the End of the Universe takes place at the Larserbos Campground, Zeebiesweg 47, Lelystad. The site is about 5 km southeast of Lelystad. Lelystad itself is a 34 minute (direct) trainride away from Amsterdam. From there you can take bus 107 which leaves:

14:15 06:41 07:15 07:27 07:41 08:11 08:41 09:11 09:41 10:41 11:41 12:41 13:41
14:41 15:41 16:41 17:41 18:41 19:41 20:41 21:41

and takes about fifteen minutes to get you to the 'Larserbos' stop, within 3 km of the site. From there it's a 20 minute walk (see straight road, follow the signs). We have a rental van and we'll be picking up people that arrive by bus. There will probably be a 'Hacking at the End of the Universe' courtesy-telephone at the busstop. Bus 107 can also be taken from Harderwijk (in the other direction). If you come by car it's easy enough: just follow the A6 highway, take the Lelystad exit and follow our signs.

HEU?

Remember the Galactic Hacker Party back in 1989? Ever wondered what happened to the people behind it? We sold out to big business, you think. Think again! We're back!

That's right. On August 4th, 5th and 6th 1993, we're organising a three-day summer congress for hackers, phone phreaks, programmers, computer haters, data travellers, electro-wizards, net-workers, hardware freaks, techno-snar-chists, communications junkies, cyber-punks, system managers, stupid users, paranoid androids, Unix gurus, whizz kids, warez dudes, law enforcement officers (appropriate undercover dress re-quired), guerrilla heating engineers and other assorted bald, long-haired and/or unshaven scum. And all this in the middle of nowhere (well, the middle of Hol-land, actually, but that's the same thing) at the Larserbos campground four metres below sea level.

The three days will be filled with lec-tures, discussions and workshops on hacking, phreaking, people's networks, Unix security risks, virtual reality, sema-fun, social engineering, magstrips, lock-picking, viruses, paranoia, legal sanc-tions against hacking in Holland and elsewhere and much, much more. English will be the lingua franca for this event, although one or two workshops may take place in Dutch. There will be an Internet connection, an internet eth-net and social interaction (both elec-tronic and live). Included in the price are four nights in your own tent. Also in-cluded are inspiration, transportation, a shortage of showers (but a lake to swim

ME?

Yes, you! Busloads of alternative techno-freaks from all over the planet will descend on this event. You wouldn't want to miss that, now, would you?

Maybe you are part of that select group that has something special to offer! Participating in 'Hacking at the End of the Universe' is exciting, but organising your very own part of it is even more fun.

We already have a load of interesting workshops and lectures scheduled, but we're always on the lookout for more. We're also still in the market for people who want to help us with the organisa-tion of this event.

Geachte heer Gonggrijp,

In augustus 1993 heeft u het ANWB-terrein 'Het Larserbos' gehuurd t.b.v. een evenement.

Over de activiteiten die u daar destijds heeft georganiseerd is in de nationale en internationale pers nogal wat commotie ontstaan. De ANWB is daardoor op een negatieve manier in de publiciteit gekomen.

U heeft nu aangegeven het terrein te willen huren in augustus 1997 voor het evenement 'Mostly Harmless'.

U heeft ons daartoe al een eerste concept m.b.t. dit evenement gestuurd.

Echter, gezien onze ervaringen in 1993 zullen wij uw aanvraag niet honoreren en stellen wij het 'Larserbos' niet beschikbaar.

Wij wensen u veel succes met het vinden van een passende lokatie en met de organisatie van het congres.

Met vriendelijke groet,
ANWB

'Onlineback-ups Hema-usb-sticks waren publiekelijk toegankelijk'

De bestanden die gebruikers van usb-geheugensticks van de HEMA via het daartoe bestemde back-up-programma online plaatsten, waren voor iedereen in te zien, ontdekte de Haagse hackerspace Revspace. HEMA heeft de sticks uit de handel gehaald.

Wie onlineopslag bij de usb-stick gebruikte, heeft in theorie zijn naam, adres, telefoonnummer, wachtwoord en inhoud van bestanden op straat gegooid, claimt Revspace op basis van eigen onderzoek. Gebruikers moesten volgens de hackers rekening houden met identiteitsdiefstal.

And all the initiatives, projects and groups we missed, or don't know about.

Patches welcome:
